This July Birthday Card is the perfect way to celebrate summer birthdays, and it doubles as a festive invitation for your Fourth of July picnic!

THE STAR OF THE SHOW: ALPHABET A LA MODE DIES

Even if you're not a scrapbooker, alphabet dies can make a bold statement on handmade cards. The Alphabet A La Mode Dies are the true hero here!

If you're a scrapbooker and don't have this set yet, now's the time! It's on the Last Chance List at 50% off. You'll love that it includes doubles of common letters like A, E, N, R, and more—plus numbers! Everything you need for cards and scrapbook pages.

PATRIOTIC COLORS & PERFECT DETAILS

I cut the letters in classic red, white, and blue, then added stars from the Playful Packaging Dies for extra patriotic flair. The birthday sentiment comes from the Words of Beauty stamp set and was stamped in Blueberry Bushel ink.

TIP: Easy Adhesive for Skinny Letters

Because the letters are narrow, I use a Silicone Craft Sheet and Liquid Glue with a silicone baster to tap glue onto the backs. This gives great coverage without excess glue squeezing out around the edges.

I just cut off the end of the baster and keep it in my craft room just for this!
